Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies

BULLETIN No. 20

THERE are seven glacier-fed lakes on the route of the first official Trail Ride, starting from Banff on August 1st and ending four days later at Castle Mountain Bungalow Camp. This route will form half of the long-wished-for High Line Trail from Banff to Lake Louise, the second half of which will also skirt several glacial lakes. From the valley through which the Canadian Pacific Railway runs one sees a panorama of snow-clad peaks, but one does not suspect the variety of lake scenery perched at this higher altitude. Only the trail rider or the Alpine climber has any conception of the real beauty and majesty of this region, only a glimpse of which is afforded to those who travel by train or motor car.

The Egypt Lake district comprising Mummy Lake, Scarab Lake, Egypt Lake and Haiduk Lake will this summer be for the first time accessible by a through trail, so that those who join our party can count themselves as pioneers. The reservations for this trail ride are coming in fast, but the supply of available horses is always limited, so that Reservations for the Official Trail Ride should be sent in now and the Committee reserves the right to refuse any applications received after July 15. The rate decided on for this ride is $50 per head, including the early morning motor car ride on August 1st to Sun Dance Canyon, where the horses will be in waiting, and including horses, guides, tent accommodation and food up to supper at Castle Mountain Bungalow Camp, August 4th. Motorbusses will be on hand to take Riders after the Pow Wow to Banff or Lake Louise, for which the rate will be $2.50 per head. Those who wish to stay overnight at the Bungalow Camp must make their own reservations with Mrs. Lucy Kerr, manageress of this Camp, where the rates are $5.50 per day American plan.

A few days later, probably August 8th, the long distance ride to the Columbia Icefield will start from Lake Louise. This Icefield comprises the largest and most spectacular body of ice left on the North American continent, covering 150 square miles and surrounded by peaks varying in height from 10,000 to over 12,000 feet. The melting waters from this icefield run into three oceans, the Pacific, the Arctic and the Atlantic at Hudson's Bay. The party will leave Lake Louise and go up the Bow Valley to Bow Lake, over Bow Pass and by the Mistaya Valley past Waterfowl Lakes to the North Saskatchewan; then up the Alexandra River Valley to Castleguard and the Columbia Icefields. This party will be limited to Trail Riders holding silver or higher-grade buttons or who otherwise satisfy the committee that they would not prove a burden to the rest of the party. While the actual travelling will take just fourteen days, four days will be allowed for lay over and possible bad weather, so that Trail Riders who plan to take this trip should count on eighteen days absence. The rate will be $275 per head. No one will be accepted unless suitably equipped with sleeping bag and at least three warm blankets. Guides, horses, tent equipment and food will be supplied.

The route will follow the first half of that which is described by Louis R. Freeman in "On the Roof of the Rockies" (Dodd Mead). Since the publication of this book, however, the trails have been greatly improved, and many parties make it every summer. Jack Brewster has used it for his Glacier Trail now for six consecutive years, and states that last summer, at the time of his crossing the great icefield, there were forty-one people present, including seventeen ladies and four children.

A fascinating account of the Columbia Icefield lavishly illustrated with photographs and maps is contained in "The Glittering Mountains of Canada," by Dr. J. Monroe Thorington, of Philadelphia, a member of the Trail Riders (published by John W. Lea, 1520 N. Robinson Street, Philadelphia). Describing the Alexandra Glacier, he says: "Although the heights were often invisible, we could always gaze downward on these marvellous glaciers. The masses of ice were softened here and there by the interposition of their vapours, drifting back and forth; towers and pinnacles of ice seemed on the verge of splitting and crumbling; sea-green arches, transparent as our finger-tips seen when held before a strong light, were all luminous with the pale yellow glow that came through a distance snow saddle." Of Camp Castleguard, he writes: "Here indeed is the spot of which wranglers dream; plenty of water, wood everywhere, horse-feed for months, and the horses can't get away!"

As a number of reservations for this Ride have already been made and the party will be limited to twenty, exclusive of guides, those desiring to join should send in their reservations without delay.

After July 1st, reservations for either of the Trail Rides should be sent to L. S. Crosby, Western Secretary, Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, Banff, Alberta.

TRAIL RIDING IN AUSTRALIA

A Trail Riders Order in Australia, similar to that of our own, was started a few months ago under the auspices of the Victorian Government Tourist Bureau which conducted a very successful Trail Ride to the Bogong High Plains during the recent Christmas season. This corresponds climatically to our summer as winter does not come on till April. Mount Bogong is 6,508 feet above the level of the sea, being mantled in snow for many months of the year, and rises with other peaks from a high plateau the average elevation of which is well over 5,000 feet. This region is full of beautiful valleys sprinkled with strangely formed basaltic rocks, and is attracting an ever increasing volume of tourists owing to the enterprise of the Victorian Government in opening up roads and trails.

Many streams flow along miniature valleys, twisting and winding, and ever growing in volume until at last they tumble over the edge and rush down foaming and vociferous to join the Kiewa far below. And here and there are little pools and lakelets where hosts of minnows race among the clear reflections of the clouds. For the most part there are no trees, but occasionally in the shelter of a ridge a grove of snow-gums is met. These trees are fitted by Nature to resist the snow; the leaves are thick, and the wood is so tough that it is difficult to break the smallest branch. In many places, however, fires have killed them, and they present a strange ghostly appearance, with twisted branches bleached to the whiteness of driven snow.

The first organized Trail Ride comprised thirty-seven riders and fifteen pack-horses. It is interesting to us to note that the members were recommended to take each a small flask of brandy and a snakebite outfit: they were also expected to assist the cooks and help to catch the horses in the morning. The ride seems to have been well organized and highly successful, with the result that steps are being taken to organize an association known as the Trail Riders of the Australian Alps. The constitution of this association will be based on that of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies, and we have received a request that it be affiliated with our own Order. It is gratifying to think that our Australian friends should desire this affiliation, and we wish this new Order of Trail Riders of the Australian Alps every possible success. We have several Australians among our own members, and if they have not heard of this new Order, they may wish to join it. If so, they should communicate with Mr. H. Roy Gollan, Victorian Government Tourist Bureau.

Some photographs taken on this Australian Trail Ride are reproduced on the centre pages of this Bulletin. They are taken from a very interesting album sent to us by Mr. Harold W. Clapp from the Commissioner's Office, Victorian Railways, Melbourne.

Those who took part in the 1927 Trail Ride will never forget the attractive personality and story-telling skill of "Toppie" Edwards. On February 23rd we received a cable that "Toppie" had died the previous day at Freetown, Sierra Leone, of pneumonia following an operation. The funeral held at his home town of Leigh-on-Sea in Essex, England, was attended by representatives of practically the whole British Press, and as he was corresponding secretary for the Trail Riders in Great Britain, we sent the wreath which is reproduced on this page. "Toppie" had hoped to bring a party to the forthcoming Trail Ride.
